

Company Profile: Guided by Values. Powered by Partnership.

Built on a solid foundation of quality products, exceptional service, and nearly a century of experience, Amerisure provides businesses with property and casualty insurance. Amerisure pursues its mission through mutually beneficial partnering with policyholders, agencies, employees and community groups.

Amerisure's roots go back to 1912, when a group of leading manufacturers from the Michigan Manufacturers Association joined forces to provide workers' compensation insurance. Named Michigan Workmen's Compensation Mutual Insurance, it was the first mutual casualty organization incorporated in the State of Michigan. The Company later adopted the Michigan Mutual identity while utilizing the Amerisure name for its operating companies. The parent company, today called Amerisure Mutual Insurance Company, has developed into an industry leader. And while the insurance industry has changed considerably since our early days, one aspect remains constant-an Amerisure policy means more than coverage when trouble strikes. It symbolizes a way of doing business that puts our partnership philosophy to work. Resulting policyholder benefits include improved worker safety; prompt, efficient claims settlement; and highly effective cost management.
